History of the Oldest Bank in Perry County: Murphy-Wall State Bank and Trust Company

125 Years of Service to the Community

Viewing the new bank building dedicated in 1983, one is aware of the many years of service Murphy-Wall State Bank and Trust Company has given the community for the past 124 years. This bank is a modern bank in every way with its first concern to offer the best possible service to the community. President Clark Bush has been guiding the bank and its Board of Directors since March 18, 1991. He brings a strong foundation to the bank as he continues the same ethical and forward vision as those who preceded him: Wm. K. Murphy, Joseph Crawford, Wm. K. Crawford Sr., Robert J. Crawford, and Wm. K. Crawford Jr.

The Murphy family of Perry County emigrated from Ireland to America before the Revolutionary War. John Murphy (grandfather of Wm. K. Murphy) was a soldier of the Revolution and fought on the side of the patriots at Kings Mountain and other battles in the South. Soon after the war, he located in Tennessee, and in 1818 the family came to Illinois where they settled in Perry County. He married in North Carolina and was the father of five sons and five daughters. One son was Richard G. who was the father of William K. Murphy. William C. was another son of John Murphy who became prominent in Illinois. He served as door-keeper in the State Senate and House while the capitol was at Vandalia. When the capitol was moved to Springfield, he served as sheriff of Perry County and held other offices for a number of years. His name was honored by having Murphysboro in Jackson County named for him.

Richard G. Murphy was born in Smith County, Tennessee on January 4, 1801, and was the youngest of the family. He became an important man in Illinois. He and his brother, William C., served in the Black Hawk War where Wm. C. was severely wounded. Richard was elected to and served ten years in the Illinois Legislature. During Polk's administration, he was appointed Agent to the Sioux Indians on their reservation in Minnesota. In 1850, he was again selected to the Legislature and was made chairman of the committee on railroads which incorporated the Illinois Central Railroad. In 1834, he married Miss Sarah, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Kinney) Lemen, who was a niece of Governor Kinney of Belleville, Illinois. She died October 28, 1846. To this marriage, five children were born: Mary, wife of Richard A. Huntsman, Joseph L., Benton P., George W. and William K. Murphy. Richard then married Mrs. Nancy Wier nee Glore, who also bore five children.

William Kinney Murphy was born in Perry County, Illinois on July 20, 1835. He was reared on a farm and received little formal education. He attended subscription schools of his neighborhood and received some private instruction. For a short time, he was tutored by B. G. Roots, a veteran educator of Perry County. At the age of 25 years, he entered the Law Office of Wm. H. McKee, a brilliant young attorney of Pinckneyville. He applied and received admission to the bar in 1859, and was considered the most successful resident lawyer in Perry County. His frequent elections to the legislative bodies of the State attest to his standing, ability and worth as a citizen. He married, in 1860, to Miss Penina Ozburn, daughter of Hawkins S. and Mahala (Reese) Ozburn. They raised two children, Hawkins O. and Sarah V. Murphy.

Murphy-Wall State Bank and Trust Company was originated and established in Pinckneyville by W. K. Murphy, George Wall and George W. Parker on November 12, 1874. It was first known as The Exchange Bank of Murphy-Wall and Company and later as Murphy-Wall and Company Banks. In 1907, it was incorporated as Murphy-Wall State Bank and Trust Company at which time a new building was erected at Walnut and Water Streets.

William K. Murphy was Manager of the Bank during its operation as a private bank from 1874 to 1907, when it operated from a building on the north side of the square in Pinckneyville. William K. became President from 1907 until his death in 1911. Mr. Murphy was a prominent pioneer, banker, attorney, businessman and farmer of Perry County. He was instrumental in the establishment of several banks in Illinois as well as one in Missouri and one in Nashville, Tennessee. He was President of the First National Bank of Murphysboro, Illinois for many years. Mr. Joseph Crawford, son-in-law of W. K. Murphy, served as President of the Bank from 1911 until his death in 1923. W. K. Crawford, grandson of W. K. Murphy, served as President of the Bank from 1923 through 1975.

The Murphy-Wall State Bank and Trust Company, with present resources of $68,000,000, has withstood wars, financial panics and depressions and has witnessed many changes in the financial and monetary systems of the community and the continents and countries of the world. In war as in peace, the bank has always assumed its part of extra burden incidental to a Nation engaged in conflict.

W. K. Murphy was a Captain in the Union Army in the Civil War. W. K. Crawford Sr., and C. H. Dintleman were in active service with the American Expeditionary Forces in France in WW I. W. K. Crawford, Jr., Navy Air Corps and Robert J. Crawford, U. S. Army served in France, Germany and Austria in WW II.

While some served their country in the Armed Forces, the Bank was active in purchasing Liberty Bonds and War Savings Bonds for its own account as well as for its customers and the public in general.

The officers, directors and stockholders of the Bank are aware of the confidence and good will which the citizens of Pinckneyville and the surrounding community have shown during the 124 years of the Bank's existence. They appreciate the pleasant business relations which the Murphy-Wall State Bank and Trust Company has enjoyed during that time. With the year 1999, the Board of Directors, Officers, and Employees look forward to the 125th year of service to the public.

The interior of the Bank was refurbished by replacing the iron grillwork with bullet-proof glass and small speaking openings. Also added were revolvers which were mounted at each station. Mr. Bischof, Mr. Dingleman, and employees of the bank look over the redecorated room from the enclosed office at right. Circa 1925 - 51

The interior of the West Water Street Bank was redecorated with a very modern decor. Bank President Wm. K. Crawford, son Robert Crawford, son Wm. K. Crawford Jr. and employee are ready to serve the public. Customers are Noel Trigg and Mrs. Vivian Schweitzler. Circa 1950

CHAMPIONS PERRY COUNTY H. O. MURPHY'S

A search of the records indicates that H. O. Murphy conducted a clothing store on the square in Pinckneyville in the late 1800's. We wonder if Murphy-Wall Bank could have been a sponsor.
